

Spring 2012 Curricular Fields

Key: Courses in () belong to the Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Center for Muslim-Christian Understanding (ACMCU).

American Studies

America and China in Historical Perspective (Elective)
American Literature and the American Idea (Core)
Becoming an American: Immigration in Historical Perspective (Human Values)
Path to the Future: The U.S. in the 21st Century (Core)
Propaganda and American Foreign Policy (Elective)
Social Inequality (Human Values)
The Court, The Constitution, and the Shaping of the American Nation (Core)
The History and Development of American Labor (Elective)
The 1960s: Culture and Conflict (Human Values)

Catholic Studies

Classics in the Catholic Tradition (Core)
Cosmos and Christ: Can They Be Mutually Enlightening? (Systematic: Human Values)
Heroes and Saints: Tracking the Values Genome (Core)
Roman Emperors: Absolute Rule in Western Civilization (Elective)
The Book of Genesis: Literature, Ethics, Theology (Human Values)
The 1960s: Culture and Conflict (Human Values)

Classical Civilization

Roman Emperors: Absolute Rule in Western Civilization (Core)

Ethics and the Professions

Cyberethics (Human Values)
The Ethics of Aristotle and Kant (Core)

Humanities

American Literature and the American Idea (Human Values)
Art and Ethics: Current Controversies in the Liberal Arts (Human Values)
Becoming an American: Immigration in Historical Perspective (Human Values)
Classics in the Catholic Tradition (Human Values)
Cosmos and Christ: Can They Be Mutually Enlightening? (Human Values)
Foundations of Modernity (Elective)
Orientalism: Western Perspectives of Near Eastern Culture and Values (Elective)
Roman Emperors: Absolute Rule in Western Civilization (Elective)
Sex, Lies, and Theology: Theology after Freud (Human Values)
The Book of Genesis: Literature, Ethics, Theology (Human Values)
The Ethics of Aristotle and Kant (Core)
The Politics of Gender in World Religions (Human Values)

The 1960s: Culture and Conflict (Human Values)

International Affairs

America and China in Historical Perspective (Elective)

Becoming an American: Immigration in Historical Perspective (Human Values)

Buddhism through Literature and Art (Elective)

Cyberethics (Human Values)

(Islam and Politics) (Human Values)

(Muslim-Christian Relations in World History) (Elective)

Orientalism: Western Perspectives of Near Eastern Culture and Values (Elective)

Path to the Future: The U.S. in the 21st Century (Core)

Propaganda and American Foreign Policy (Elective)

(Religion and Politics in Contemporary Iran) (Human Values)

(Revolutionary Thought in Islam) (Elective)

The Court, The Constitution, and the Shaping of the American Nation (Elective)

The Politics of Gender in World Religions (Human Values)

The Problem of War (Core)

The 1960s: Culture and Conflict (Human Values)

Islam and Muslim-Christian Relations

(Contemporary Islamic Activist Intellectuals) (Elective)

Heroes and Saints: Tracking the Values Genome (Human Values)

(Islam, Gender, and Social Change) (Human Values)

(Islam and Politics) (Human Values)

(Muslim-Christian Relations in World History) (Core)

Orientalism: Western Perspectives of Near Eastern Culture and Values (Human Values)

(Religion and Politics in Contemporary Iran) (Human Values)

(Revolutionary Thought in Islam) (Elective)

Literature and Society

American Literature and the American Idea (Core)

Buddhism through Literature and Art (Elective)

Classics in the Catholic Tradition (Human Values)

Orientalism: Western Perspectives of Near Eastern Culture and Values (Elective)

Roman Emperors: Absolute Rule in Western Civilization (Elective)

The Book of Genesis: Literature, Ethics, Theology (Human Values)

Medieval and Early Modern European Studies

Roman Emperors: Absolute Rule in Western Civilization (Core)

Cosmos and Christ: Can They Be Mutually Enlightening? (Elective)

Religious Studies

Buddhism through Literature and Art (Human Values)

Classics in the Catholic Tradition (Human Values)

Cosmos and Christ: Can They Be Mutually Enlightening? (Foundational: Core)
Heroes and Saints: Tracking the Values Genome (Religion and Culture: Human Values)
(Islam, Gender, and Social Change) (Religion and Culture: Elective)
(Muslim-Christian Relations in World History) (Comparative: Human Values)
(Religion and Politics in Contemporary Iran) (Religion and Culture: Elective)
(Revolutionary Thought in Islam) (Religion and Culture: Elective)
Sex, Lies, and Theology: Theology after Freud (Human Values)
The Book of Genesis: Literature, Ethics, Theology (Human Values)
The Politics of Gender in World Religions (Human Values)

Social and Public Policy

Becoming an American: Immigration in Historical Perspective (Human Values)
City Lab Geneva Experience (Elective)
Foundations of Modernity (Elective)
Heroes and Saints: Tracking the Values Genome (Elective)
Path to the Future: The U.S. in the 21st Century (Core)
Propaganda and American Foreign Policy (Elective)
Social Inequality (Human Values)
The Court, The Constitution, and the Shaping of the American Nation (Core)
The History and Development of American Labor (Elective)

The Theory and Practice of American Democracy

Becoming an American: Immigration in Historical Perspective (Elective)
Path to the Future: The U.S. in the 21st Century (Core)
Propaganda and American Foreign Policy (Elective)
The Court, The Constitution, and the Shaping of the American Nation (Core)
The History and Development of American Labor (Elective)
The Politics of Gender in World Religions (Human Values)
The 1960s: Culture and Conflict (Human Values)

Visual Culture

Art and Ethics: Current Controversies in the Liberal Arts (Core)
Buddhism through Literature and Art (Human Values)